IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

MARCH 1, 1895.—Ordered to be printed.

Mr. GALLINGER for Mr. PALMER, from the Committee on Pensions, submitted the following

REPORT:

[To accompany H. R. 8888.]

The Committee on Pensions, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 8888) granting a pension to Williamson Durley, have examined the same, and report:

The report of the Committee on Invalid Pensions of the House of Representatives hereto appended is adopted, and the passage of the bill is recommended:

The Committee on Pensions, to whom was referred the bill (H. R. 8888) granting a pension to Williamson Durley, have considered the same and respectfully report as follows:

The claimant, Williamson Durley, swears that in June, 1831, he enlisted in Captain Campbell's company of Illinois volunteers in the Black Hawk war, and served therein for a period of about thirty-one days; and, further, that in 1832 he again enlisted, under Capt. George B. Willis, and served for a period of nineteen days. A record of the claimant's service in Captain Campbell's company has not been obtained by your committee, but a certified copy of the rolls of Captain Willis's company is on file, and shows the nineteen days' service alleged by the claimant in that organization.

Mr. Durley is now 86 years old, and unable to do anything toward earning a support.

The passage of the bill is respectfully recommended, with an amendment fixing the rate of pension at $12 per month, so as to conform to the ratings allowed pensioners under the general Indian-war act by a bill which passed the House at this session and is now on the Senate Calendar.
